STRUCTURE, GOVERNANCE AND MANAGEMENT

Governing document

The charity is controlled by its governing document, a deed of trust, and constitutes an unincorporated charity.

The charity is an unincorporated trust, constituted under a trust deed dated 6th June 1975.

Recruitment and appointment of new trustees

The trustees are elected by the board of trustees. Trustees serve for three years after which they may put themselves forward for re-election. The vice-chairman/men are elected for five years and the Chairman for seven. New trustees may be sought by open advertisement or through prior involvement with the charity and the Board of Trustees.

Newly appointed trustees meet with the Executive President and Director for an update on the charity's activities, procedures and financial position, and are given copies of the minutes of recent board and advisory committee meetings and recent annual reports and accounts.

Organisational structure

At biannual trustees meetings, the trustees agree the broad strategy of the charity in relation to campaigns for historic buildings and areas and issues affecting the historic built environment, as well as employment and investment. The day to day running of the charity is delegated to the Director, and the Director and Executive President have, through the trust deed, broad authority to act in pursuit of the charity's aims between trustee meetings without recourse to the trustees.

The Director, Caseworker, Buildings at Risk Officer and Executive President are advised by an expert committee which meets every twice a year to discuss cases and issues and offer detailed advice on campaigns. This contains three trustees and twenty other members at present.

SAVE Britain's Heritage

STRUCTURE, GOVERNANCE AND MANAGEMENT

Related parties and connected charities

The charity has two charities to which it is connected by virtue of a unity of administration as well as related objects. These charities are The SAVE Trust (charity number 1069501) and SAVE Europe's Heritage (charity number 1042202). Marcus Binney is a trustee of both The SAVE Trust and SAVE Europe's Heritage, Oliver Leigh-Wood is a trustee of The SAVE Trust and John Harris is a trustee of SAVE Europe's Heritage.

Risk management

The trustees have a duty to identify and review the risks to which the charity is exposed and to ensure appropriate controls are in place to provide reasonable assurance against fraud and error.

The charity trustees have considered the major risks to which the charity is exposed and have established systems and procedures to manage those risks. At present, the charity has limited funds which are carefully invested.

OBJECTIVES AND ACTIVITIES

Objectives and aims

The objects and activities of the charity identified in the trust deed are:

- (a) "awakening the public interest in and appreciation of Britain's architectural heritage
- (b) to encourage the study of that heritage and related matters and to promote high standards of planning and architecture
- (c) to save from needless destruction or disfigurement buildings or groups of building and designed landscapes of special historic or architectural interest"

The trust deed identifies the following means

- (a) "the printing publication and distribution by sale or otherwise of books pamphlets papers and pictorial or other matter
- (b) the provision promotion and organisation of lectures educational courses public and private meetings exhibitions and other forms of instruction and publicity
- (c) the making of gifts or donation to charitable bodies where in the opinion of the Trustees such gifts or donations will be conducive to the promotion of the objects of the Trust
- (d) the bringing to public notice of threats to historic buildings and townscape and designed landscape"

Through these the charity aims to prevent the unnecessary loss of precious historic buildings, a resource historic, environmental, cultural, social and financial that once lost cannot be replaced.

Grantmaking

The charity makes very occasional small scale grants (up to £1000) to aid local campaigns which are in line with the objects of the charity as a means of building on the charity's activities and furthering its objects.

Public benefit

The Trustees confirm that they have referred to the guidance contained in the Charity Commission's general guidance on public benefit when reviewing the Trust's aims and objectives and in planning future activities.

ACHIEVEMENT AND PERFORMANCE

2013 was another very busy year for the charity.

Campaigns

A great deal of time was dedicated to fighting a planning application to demolish 400 houses in the Welsh Streets, Liverpool, a continuation of the destructive Pathfinder policy. SAVE conducted high-level meetings with the Department for Communities and Local Government and Liverpool Council in an attempt to negotiate a satisfactory outcome for the area.

SAVE organised a petition regarding the application that was signed by over 850 objectors. SAVE spoke at the Planning Committee meeting in Liverpool in July 2013. Liverpool Council gave permission for the planning application following which the Secretary of State called it in for public inquiry on the request of SAVE, who was automatically given Rule 6 status. The inquiry will take place in June 2014. We began working on our case and pulling a team together following the announcement in September 2013. In addition we sought to continue negotiations with the council to come to a settlement about the extent of demolition and refurbishment taking place in the area in question. SAVE continues to maintain its house in the area, making the case for refurbishment over demolition.

At the same time, Gateshead Council granted planning application to demolish 300 houses containing 'Tyneside flats' (115 retrospectively as they had already been demolished). SAVE had objected and asked for a public inquiry, which was not granted. SAVE applied for permission to judicially review the council's decision and were granted. We obtained an injunction to halt demolition of the houses while the judicial review was pending. Gateshead repeatedly sought to break the injunction and SAVE had twice to extend and insist upon it. We worked closely with the Saltwell and Bensham Residents' Association.

SAVE led objections to the substantial demolition of Smithfield General Market and Annex by Henderson Global Investors who received planning permission from the City of London in July 2013. SAVE spoke at the planning committee meeting and secured objections from all the amenities societies and many others. Following the granting of planning permission SAVE initiated a petition to the Secretary of State asking him to call it in for public inquiry. We gathered almost 5,000 signatures. The Secretary of State granted permission for a public inquiry in September 2013 and SAVE was automatically made a Rule 6 Party.

We spent the rest of the year preparing for the inquiry that was to be held in February 2014.

SAVE also submitted a planning application, with the Victorian Society, for Smithfield General Market and Annex. The architect is John Burrell of Burrell, Foley Fischer. This is a conservation-led approach simply bringing the buildings back into use. We are waiting for a date set for it to be decided at Planning Committee. We held a public exhibition of our plans for Smithfield General Market in December.

SAVE fought proposals from Sheffield University to demolish the Grade II listed Jessops Hospital. We were granted permission to judicially review the decision, but lost in court and subsequently in the court of appeal. We worked closely on this with the SAVE Jessops Hospital campaign and with the Victorian Society. However, we established the correct interpretation of the crucial and controversial paragraph 133 of National Planning Policy. We lost the case in fact, but won it in principle. The Court of Appeal's ruling reinforced the need for local planning authorities to consider whether there are substantial public benefits that justify the exceptional course of authorising the demolition of a listed building when compared with the benefits of a scheme which would retain it, and to consider the public benefits of options other than total demolition.

Wentworth Woodhouse was a major campaign for SAVE throughout the year. SAVE is leading on devising a scheme which will enable the house to be more widely open to the public and which will secure its future.

Throughout 2013 SAVE continued to work on a rescue plan for the severely neglected Winstanley Hall near Wigan. SAVE secured some £220,000 in donations from English Heritage, the Country Houses Foundation and SAVE supporters to conduct emergency repairs of the courtyard buildings. These will commence in May 2014.

At Seafeld House in Ayrshire SAVE objected strongly to its proposed demolition and continued to support the Friends of Seafeld House. SAVE attended a buyer's day arranged by NHS Scotland, the owners of Seafeld House. An offer by SAVE to pay for a cherry picker to clear leaves and debris choking the gutters was not responded to by NHS Scotland. Towards the end of 2012 the Victorian church of Our Lady and St Winefride's Church and Presbytery, Queen's Road, in Aberystwyth, was threatened with demolition. SAVE commissioned an independent report from leading structural engineers The Morton Partnership, who assessed needed repair work to be less drastic than was being claimed. SAVE continued to support local parishioners in campaigning to save the buildings throughout 2013.

ACHIEVEMENT AND PERFORMANCE

In 2013 SAVE made two visits to the Mid-Wales Hospital, Talgarth, a long-term project for our charity. We are helping local campaigners the Mid-Wales Hospital Adjoining Adjacent Neighbours Group (MWHANG) to secure a future for the non-listed buildings that make up a model Edwardian hospital of 1900 designed by London architects Giles Gough and Trollope, with an unusual echelon plan set in rolling green fields on the lower slopes of the Brecon Beacons National Park. SAVE commissioned Graham Frecknell, architect of the conversion scheme for nearby Pen-y-Fal Hospital at Abergavenny, a former mental asylum to draw a sketch scheme showing how the Mid-Wales hospital could be converted.

SAVE successfully campaigned for a number of buildings in 2013, halting their demolition. These include, but not only: Eton Sanatorium; The Marquis of Lansdowne Pub, Cremor Street, London; The Knowle, Sidmouth, Devon; The White Bear Pub, Hendon; St. Cyprians, Edge Lane, Liverpool; Pensloner's Hut, Widnes; the Littlewoods Building, Liverpool; St. John the Divine, Liverpool.

Buildings at Risk: we added some 25 buildings to the Buildings at Risk Register in 2013 and updated many other entries. Our volunteer dedicates two days per week to maintaining the register. She is overseen by the Caseworker.

Publications SAVE published a 20-page newsletter in 2013 with a guest entry from Loyd Grossman. This included ten new entries in the Buildings at Risk section.

Public Events SAVE held an annual lecture on 26th November: The annual lecture from architectural historian Matthew Rice about Stoke on Trent took place on 26th Nov 2013. We sold some 100 tickets and thanks to the Friends of City Churches were able to use St Mary Abchurch at no cost.

We also held an event in July in Piercefield Park, Chepstow, to draw attention to the plight of Piercefield House. SAVE conducted a walk and picnic in Piercefield Park on 26th July. We invited Bristol theatre company Desperate Men to chaperone the walk. They encouraged us to play at characters from the site's past. Marcus Binney gave an impromptu speech as Sir John Soane, standing in front of the ruined façade.

Some fifty guests at the picnic included local conservation officers, and people involved in the restoration of the Piercefield Walks, local museum directors and architectural historians, Sir John Soane's biographer Gillian Darley, a curator from the Soane Museum, expert on the influence on West Indian sugar plantations on the landscaping of 18th century parks in Britain Victoria Perry, Director of Chepstow Museum Annie Rainsbury, chief restorer of the Piercefield Walks Kate Biggs, a curator from London's Sir John Soane's Museum, structural engineer Sinclair Johnston and many more besides. Also present were architect Michael Davies and entrepreneur Edward Strachan who made an offer on the house in 2011, which was ignored. Negotiations then reopened with the present owners thanks to a new offer from SAVE supporter Edward Strachan.

Piercefield House is one of Britain's great country houses in peril, a masterpiece by Sir John Soane, with additions by Joseph Bonomi. It is situated half way along the picturesque Piercefield Walks on the River Wye. Piercefield House is a Grade II* listed building situated in a Grade I listed park. It has been in an advanced state of ruination for many years.

Another public event took place in December 2011 to raise awareness about plans for Smithfield General Market and Annex, London. SAVE collaborated with 3rd Thought theatre company whose production Invisible People, performed some street theatre around the market.

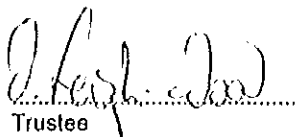

Invisible People - thus named as they are dressed all in white, and they are elderly (thus, according to them, traditionally considered less visible), told the story of the market to passers-by. They stood at points around the market (one on Holborn Viaduct, one on either side of the Grand Avenue that runs through the Central Market) and addressed members of the public one on one, while SAVE volunteers were on hand to give out additional information and collect signatures. One performer played the architect Sir Horace Jones, risen from the dead to rail against plans proposed by Hendersons Global Investors. The event was a great success - we gathered several hundred signatures for the campaign and informed many members of the public about plans for Smithfield General Market.

FINANCIAL REVIEW

The charity is dependent on donations from its Friends and sales of publications for its income. These donations vary from £10 per year to £10,000. All are gratefully received.

Free reserves, consisting of unrestricted funds, excluding fixed assets and investments, amounted to £193,726 at 31 December 2013 (2012: £263,402).

ON BEHALF OF THE BOARD:

Trustee

Date: 20 Oct 2014

Independent Examiner's Report to the Trustees of SAVE Britain's Heritage

I report on the accounts for the year ended 31 December 2013 set out on pages six to twelve.

Respective responsibilities of trustees and examiner

The charity's trustees are responsible for the preparation of the accounts. The charity's trustees consider that an audit is not required for this year (under Section 144(2) of the Charities Act 2011 (the 2011 Act)) and that an independent examination is required.

It is my responsibility to:

- examine the accounts under Section 145 of the 2011 Act
- to follow the procedures laid down in the General Directions given by the Charity Commission (under Section 145(5)(b) of the 2011 Act); and
- to state whether particular matters have come to my attention.

Basis of the Independent examiner's report

My examination was carried out in accordance with the General Directions given by the Charity Commission. An examination includes a review of the accounting records kept by the charity and a comparison of the accounts presented with those records. It also includes consideration of any unusual items or disclosures in the accounts, and seeking explanations from you as trustees concerning any such matters. The procedures undertaken do not provide all the evidence that would be required in an audit, and consequently no opinion is given as to whether the accounts present a 'true and fair view' and the report is limited to those matters set out in the statements below.

Independent examiner's statement

In connection with my examination, no matter has come to my attention:

(1) which gives me reasonable cause to believe that, in any material respect, the requirements

- to keep accounting records in accordance with Section 130 of the 2011 Act; and
- to prepare accounts which accord with the accounting records and to comply with the accounting requirements of the 2011 Act

have not been met; or

(2) to which, in my opinion, attention should be drawn in order to enable a proper understanding of the accounts to be reached.

1. ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Accounting convention

The financial statements have been prepared under the historical cost convention, with the exception of investments which are included at market value, as modified by the revaluation of certain assets and in accordance with the Financial Reporting Standard for Smaller Entities (effective April 2008), the Charities Act 2011 and the requirements of the Statement of Recommended Practice, Accounting and Reporting by Charities.

Incoming resources

All incoming resources are included on the Statement of Financial Activities when the charity is legally entitled to the income and the amount can be quantified with reasonable accuracy.

Resources expended

Expenditure is accounted for on an accruals basis and has been classified under headings that aggregate all cost related to the category. Where costs cannot be directly attributed to particular headings they have been allocated to activities on a basis consistent with the use of resources.

Tangible fixed assets

Depreciation is provided at the following annual rates in order to write off each asset over its estimated useful life.

Stocks

Stocks are valued at the lower of cost and net realisable value, after making due allowance for obsolete and slow moving items.

Taxation

The charity is exempt from tax on its charitable activities.

Fund accounting

Unrestricted funds can be used in accordance with the charitable objectives at the discretion of the trustees.

Restricted funds can only be used for particular restricted purposes within the objects of the charity. Restrictions arise when specified by the donor or when funds are raised for particular restricted purposes.

Further explanation of the nature and purpose of each fund is included in the notes to the financial statements.

The property is 21 Madryn Street, Liverpool. The property is in a street which was earmarked for demolition under the Pathfinder programme. Changes in political policy and council funding mean that the demolition is currently on hold. The charity has carried out repairs on the property and has a "guardian" living there. At the year end the Trustees were satisfied that the prospects for the property were good enough that it should remain in the accounts at cost with no impairment needing to be reflected. The directors are concerned that if a compulsory purchase order is effected this will impair the value.
